Cabin Class Grids

LOW PRICE PROMISE — If you happen to find a cheaper available price, we'll beat it.

The below cabin class grids are a quick reference to showcase the cabin classes offered out of your preferred airport, to each airline's home base.

Online Airlines
These are airlines that fly directly to and from an Australian airport. Some of these airlines may operate out of one airport only and may offer connecting flights from other domestic airports. Cabin classes vary by point of origin and destination.

Offline Airlines
These airlines don't have direct services to Australia but offer fares in conjunction with online airlines. The grid reflects cabin classes offered from three regions outside Australia.

Price Guide
Airlines offer a range of fares, affected by a number of factors, to the destinations they service. The below price guide is intended to provide indicative pricing to a popular region for each of the airlines listed in this brochure.

Legend for grids below: blank = cabin available from this port; n/a = not available from this port; 🛏 = lie-flat bed (160°–180° recline); /// = airline does not fly from this port.

Cabin class grids are based on at least one international destination serviced from an international airport in Australia. Airlines that only operate from Sydney may offer fares inclusive of domestic connections. Some airlines may offer an international codeshare service, which essentially means sharing another airline's aircraft (example BA codeshares with Qantas from Melbourne, SA codeshares with Qantas from Sydney). Airline scheduling may affect aircraft type. PRICE GUIDE CONDITIONS: Airlines may release special fares which may be under the suggested price range. Prices by class are only a guide, please contact your Flight Centre consultant for more information. Fares in economy class differ by season and airline inventory. Price range is based on return fares to a popular region for the airline, inclusive of taxes, fees and surcharges. Price variations are subject to change by airline and exchange rates. Fares and taxes based on most direct flights only. In the price guide the Pacific/Polynesian Blue (DJ) sample region is excluding New Zealand.
